Next Week's Gospel Reading

Gospel

Matthew 22:15-21

The Pharisees went away to work out between them how to trap Jesus in what he said. And they sent their disciples to him, together with the Herodians, to say, 'Master, we know that you are an honest man and teach the way of God in an honest way, and that you are not afraid of anyone, because a man's rank means nothing to you. Tell us your opinion, then. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not?' But Jesus was aware of their malice and replied, 'You hypocrites! Why do you set this trap for me? Let me see the money you pay the tax with.' They handed him a denarius, and he said, 'Whose head is this? Whose name?' 'Caesar's' they replied. He then said to them, 'Very well, give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar – and to God what belongs to God.'

Thought for the Week

No one can really love truth in this world without being rewarded by receiving insults from men; but to a generous-hearted man such abuses are most dear: it is the honour he covets. The red-hot iron is tempered by being immersed in freezing water.

*O Sacred Heart of Jesus who for love of me did gently carry
my cross to Calvary, Grant me to suffer
and to live with thee.*

Amen
